Caroline Adams Miller, MAPP

For over three decades, Caroline has been a pioneer with her groundbreaking work in the areas of goal setting, grit, happiness and success. She is recognized as one of the world's leading positive psychology experts on this research and how it can be applied to one's life for maximum transformation..

Caroline helps people identify, come up with a plan for, and persist in achieving their toughest goals while also inspiring those around them – the “awethentic effect.” Her groundbreaking book, Creating Your Best Life (2009/2021), the first mass market book on goals that included evidence-based research, connected the science of success with the science of happiness. Dr. Martin Seligman, the “father of Positive Psychology” proclaimed the book as adding a “major missing piece” to goal literature in his book Flourish, and many websites have continued to rank CYBL as the #1 goal book of all time, leading to its reissue in 2021.

In her keynote presentations and workshops, Caroline blends her personal experience, real life examples and research in positive psychology, to come up with practical applications that allow for maximum transformation and growth in people's lives. Caroline leaves her audiences with tangible takeaways and actions they can use to create their own happiness and success.

Caroline has worked with clients around the world including: Morgan Stanley, lululemon, The Wharton School/UPENN, RE/MAX, Booz Allen, Young Presidents' Organization, Harvard Law School, and Swisse Wellness.

Caroline is a popular presenter in the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton Business School Executive Education program.

In addition to the books named above, Caroline is the author of Positively Caroline (Cogent 2013) and My Name is Caroline (Doubleday 1988), which are the only two memoirs that cover the onset of bulimia to three decades of unbroken recovery. My Name is Caroline was the first book to give readers hope that recovery was possible, leading to her being featured on magazine covers and television stations around the world for many years.

Caroline's work has been featured in hundreds of magazines, newspapers and other media around the world for decades, including BBC World News, The New York Times, The Washington Post, NBC, NPR, and CNN.

FULL BIO

Caroline Adams Miller, MAPP

For three decades, Caroline has been a pioneer with her groundbreaking work in the areas of goal setting, grit, happiness and success. She is recognized as one of the world's leading positive psychology experts on this research and how it can be applied to one's life for maximum transformation, flourishing and growth.

Caroline helps people identify, come up with a plan for, and persist in pursuing their toughest goals — leading to their success, happiness and flourishing, while inspiring those around them. Achieving hard, meaningful goals is one of the most rewarding things we can do in both our personal and professional lives. Although she didn't have a word for it at the time, Caroline used "grit" and a resilient mindset to help overcome her personal battle with bulimia, which propelled her into the spotlight when her autobiography, My Name is Caroline (Doubleday 1988), became the first recovery memoir to offer hope to eating disorder sufferers who didn't know recovery was possible. Today, she helps others develop the traits they need to get to the finish line.

Angela Duckworth, winner of the 2013 MacArthur Genius grant for her research on grit, said of Caroline: "I don't know anybody who has thought more than [Caroline] about how to apply the scientific research on grit and achievement to our own lives!"

SPEAKER

In her keynote presentations and workshops, Caroline blends personal experience, real life examples and cutting-edge research in positive psychology and related fields, to come up with practical applications that create fresh awareness of how to cultivate and maintain meaningful change. Caroline leaves her audiences with tangible takeaways and actions they can use to create their own happiness and success, and is known for identifying a new pathway – the BRIDGE method - to 21st century goal accomplishment that updates older approaches with fresh research on gender, leadership, humility, negotiations and group support, among other important topics.

Caroline's TEDx Talk "The Moments That Make Champions" explores the three things that we can choose to do differently to improve our chances of developing grit.

Caroline has worked with clients around the world including: Morgan Stanley, lululemon, The Wharton School/UPENN, RE/MAX, Booz Allen, the American Bankers Association, Young Presidents' Organization, Harvard Law School, and Swisse Wellness.

AUTHOR

Caroline is the author of seven books, including the bestselling My Name is Caroline (Doubleday 1988), which was an Alternate Selection of the Literary Guild, and Positively Caroline (Cogent 2013), its sequel. Creating Your Best Life (Sterling 2009/2021), is the first mass market self-help book on the science of happiness and how it intersects with the science of accomplishing goals. It is popular in the mass market and is also used as a textbook in numerous coaching and Positive Psychology classes around the world. The "father of Positive Psychology," Martin Seligman, lauded Caroline's scholarship in his book Flourish, noting that she had "added a major missing piece to the world of coaching" because of her ground-breaking and evidence-based connection between Positive Psychology and success. Her workbook, Your Happiest Life, is a four-week guide to help users learn how to set and accomplish goals in a step-by-step way through science-based activities and proven techniques. Getting Grit (Sounds True 2017) discusses why the character strength grit is so important to a flourishing life, who has it, and how to cultivate, amplify, and teach it. Her newest book, Umoja Warrior Tribes (2021) is a how-to guide for women on how to create and benefit from a mastermind group.

Live Happy Magazine named Creating Your Best Life one of the top 10 goal setting books ever published and Getting Grit one of the 10 books that would change your life in 2017. Caroline's books have been translated into German, Korean, Spanish, Chinese, Japanese and Italian.

Caroline has been a chapter contributor to a number of books including Full Lives, Thriving Women, Thriving World and a French psychology textbook.
